Dear "little" farm boy Heck the following are words of caution.
For your own safety I would strongly advise that you stay away from Brookside park if you love any rocks and secondly don't try to drag anything heavier than a Maplet in your Chev for you might not have any nose at all.

Hi Red!
Well, you scared me about my senses. That you gave me a swell bid, but we seemed to survive. You're really hate terribly. Good luck for the two remaining years of high school. See you next year, if you don't get killed off first. Be careful in your little job.
Margie.

Hells Red!
I haven't seen to much of you in, but what I've heard it must be a honey.
Now, you better take it easy and don't get yourself killed.
Bill

Roses are red violet are that stinks and you! the gotten so do

Hi Red!!!
I promise I'll never forget those cavanderue(?) nights in the park (?!?!?). There's those C&E and home ec classes fun ???!

Red why don't you omit that your Chev isn't worth a #!*

Seriously tho be good.
Good luck to you always.
Mary H.

Hi Red!
Thanks for the ride you have given me in your car.
I've had fun in it. I have it home. I didn't want to lose it.
Be good and see you around.
Picky

9th Red,
I've enjoyed your humorous speeches throughout this year. Good luck for the future, and don't do anything I wouldn't do! (That's leaving you a pretty big field)
Be good!
Emma Nicholson

"Red Rierson"

Dear Red,
It's been fun being in study hall together.
You a good kid, you'll go a long way - I wish you lots of luck.
Your classmate,
Dick Bonken

Chuck Adams

Dear? Red,
I'll never forget those 3rd period Biology chases with you!
How could I, you won't let me.

Jim Jamson

Hi Red
To "Chinese" Rierson when your old and Bill Underhof and have nothing to do you can look back and see what I wished you lots of luck a success
Don.

Dear Little Weed How's the fire? How are you and Miss Dick?
Getting along? Best of luck to you and your Cherry.

Jerry Hagen

Best of luck and may your tennis game improve.

Hube

Red,
Take it easy this summer and don't let me see you picking up with any strange women hahaha!
Jack Moore

Dear Red?
I'll never forget that time in Biology but we had a real out to the water
I'll talk to you again sometime

Jack
Stearns

Don't
Hope you, have luck with that can you call a chess set? don't you put a toilet bowl in it. Because it looks to me like 2.H.T. is coming out the sides.
Your classmate
Stan (and) Jason

Hi
Blood
Rogers
Gunderson

Dearest Carroll,

Remember those divine nights in Brookside park?

I hope you will cherish them always!

Madeline Rice

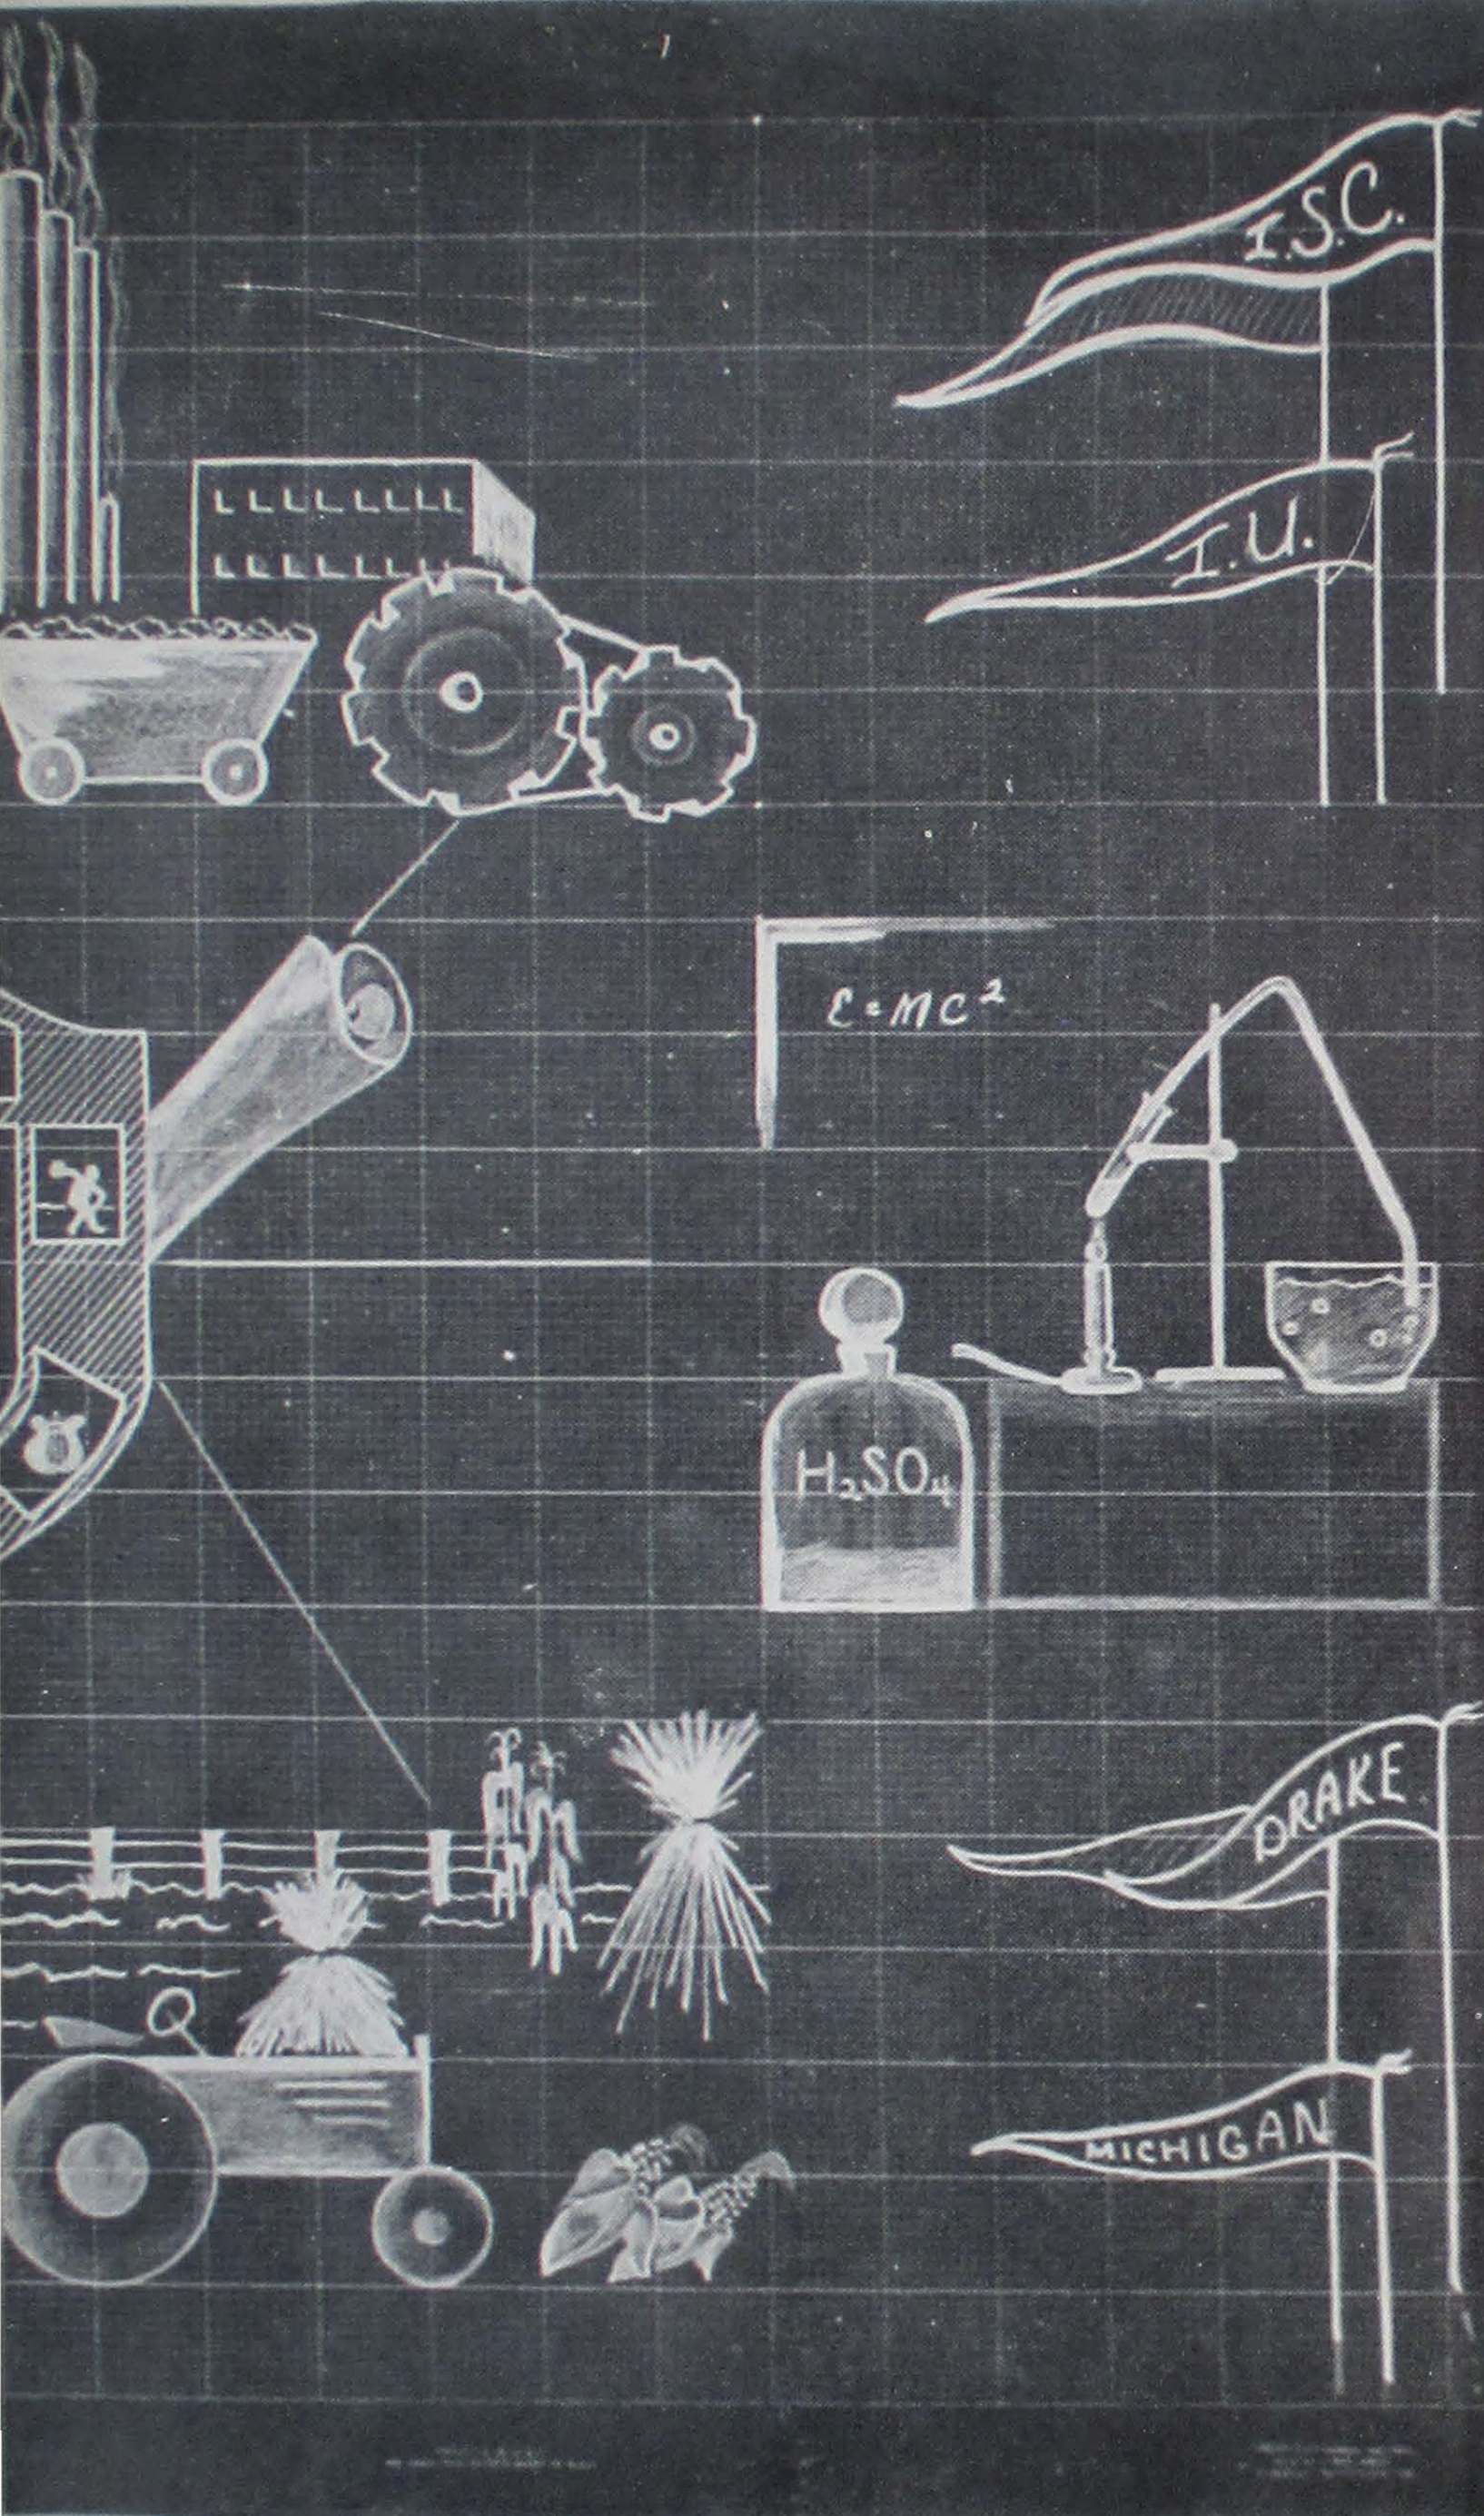

Dear 'Lil Ned!
Go to hell!
Best of luck!

Administration

The progress of a democratic nation depends upon the intelligence, sincerity, and resourcesfulness of its individual citizens. Such a citizenry can be achieved only through the practice of democracy in our public schools. By living and promoting democracy during your important high school years, you are doing your part to preserve our democratic way of life. The final measure is the extent to which you will meet and solve the many challenging problems beyond your high school years.

The members of the Board of Education and faculty are proud of the students in Ames Senior High and we hope that in the coming years each one will enjoy the greatest success and happiness.

HARRY R. MCPHAIL

Superintendent of Schools

We shall be following your careers for a good many years to come; we hope you will continue to have intellectual curiosity, interest in good scholarship and desire for excellence. We hope you will be interested and effective citizens with complete faith in democracy and its wonderful ideals and hope for mankind. Finally, and most important, the world will care more what kind of a person you are than what you know or how well you can do a job; therefore, cherish forever your character and reputation.

Junior After Hours

Junior Executive Council

TOP: McCallister, H. Harris, Ross, Gray. SECOND: J. Judge, Mr. Jarvis, D. Harris. FRONT: Davis, Dilts, Chase, R. Walsh.

The junior class made quite a few notable achievements this year upon which to look back in the years to come.

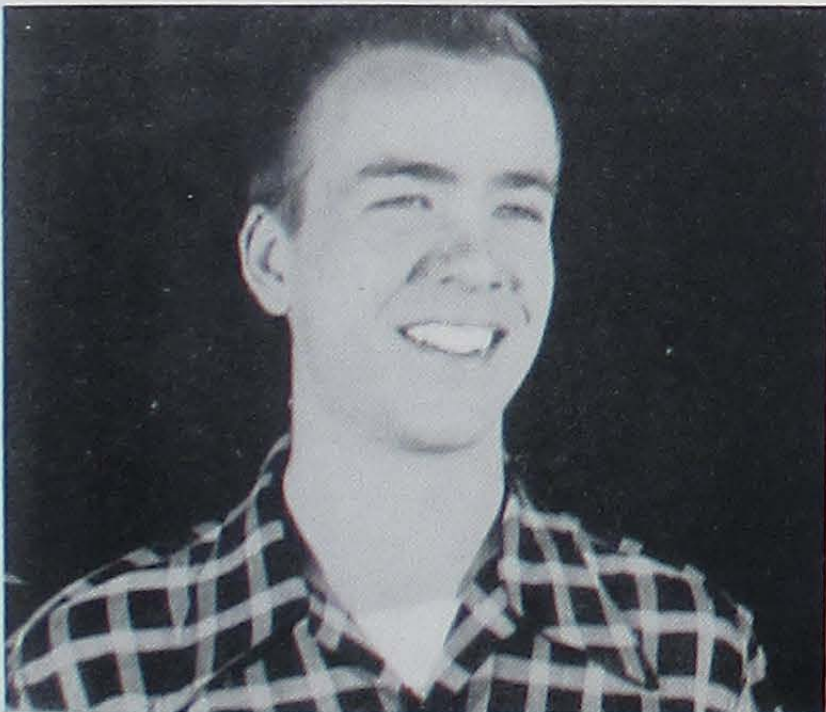

Bill McCallister took over the duties of class president; Rob Walsh, vice-president, and Evelyn Dilts, secretary.

The class claimed many athletes on varsity football, basketball and track teams. Bill Houk, Dick Green, Ben Buck, Jim Holdridge, Chuck Gray, Bob Hinrichs and Maurice Keeker lettered in football; Bill Houk was on the starting lineup in basketball and Dick Green was also on the tournament team. Several juniors won letters in track also.

Work on the Junior class play began early in the year. The comedy, Stage Door, was presented.

The Junior-Senior Prom, held on May 24, climaxed the year's activities.

The Bottom Layer

The sophomore class was very active this year; they claimed four boys on the tournament basketball squad, Denny Rust, Bob and George McJimsey and Jim Lamson. Several members of the soph football and track squad were outstanding performers also.

Besides being active in athletics, Drama club played an important role in their activities. Several students acted in the fall production, and many were on crews for the plays.

Although unorganized this year, the class will take over organized junior activities next fall.

"A United World"

Kaye Johndreau, first semester president of Girl Reserves.

Jean Murray, Girl Reserve president second semester.

The organization to which every girl in high school belongs had an interesting variety of activities this year.

The Girl Reserves were led by presidents Jean Murray and Kaye Johndreau and a large cabinet and representative group.

Money and clothes were sent again this year to Monique Martin, the foster child of the group who lives in France. Clothes were also sent to Kentucky and Germany to needy families. Boxes of Christmas gifts were packed and sent to the people in the county home. The girls sold over 200 dozen holly wreaths this year, breaking an old record. The top sellers of the wreaths accompanied the cabinet to the county home. Many other activities sponsored by the organization helped the needy in other parts of the country.

A highlight of the year was the annual Friendship Week. Dr. Jim Chubb from Grand Island, Nebraska, was the speaker.

Regular meetings, held every other week, proved to be very interesting, with speakers telling of Communist China, Guatamala, Holland, health, latest fashions, textiles, grooming and many other interesting topics. Special programs for the year consisted of a Christmas play, the annual talent show and the Girl Reserve style show.

Hi-Y in Action

Jim Allen, president of the Hi-Y first semester.

Dick Green, Hi-Y president second semester.

The Hi-Y club, embracing within its membership every boy in Ames High, carried on a program designed to fulfill the high purposes of its creed which is "To create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character."

The organization is led by a 14 member cabinet which plans one general meeting and one meeting for the six hobby groups each month. This year the group enjoyed many interesting meetings on varied subject matter, besides keeping up with the latest data in their hobby groups.

In cooperation with the Girl Reserves, the club annually sponsors Friendship Week, which emphasizes character development and spiritual values. The speaker for this year's Friendship Week was Dr. Jim Chubb from Grand Island, Nebraska. The group also carries on a gift-giving and caroling program at the county home each Christmas.

The group supports a war orphan, conducts firesides, maintains a lounge and recreation center for Hi-Y members, and operates a concession stand at home athletic contests.

Don Webber, Jim Allen, Dave Varland, Frank Wolf, Dick Green, Bob Carr, Bob Hinrichs and Tom Cooper, Hi-Y cabinet members.

Dick Green introduces Dr. Chubb during a Friendship Week service.

The vocal music groups of Ames High, a cappella choir and Girls' glee clubs, directed by Miss Edna Bower, spent the year preparing music for various school and community programs. The big program of the year was the Christmas presentation. The groups also took part in a city music festival and the Tri-city Festival with Fort Dodge and Boone.

The officers of a cappella choir were: Aldor

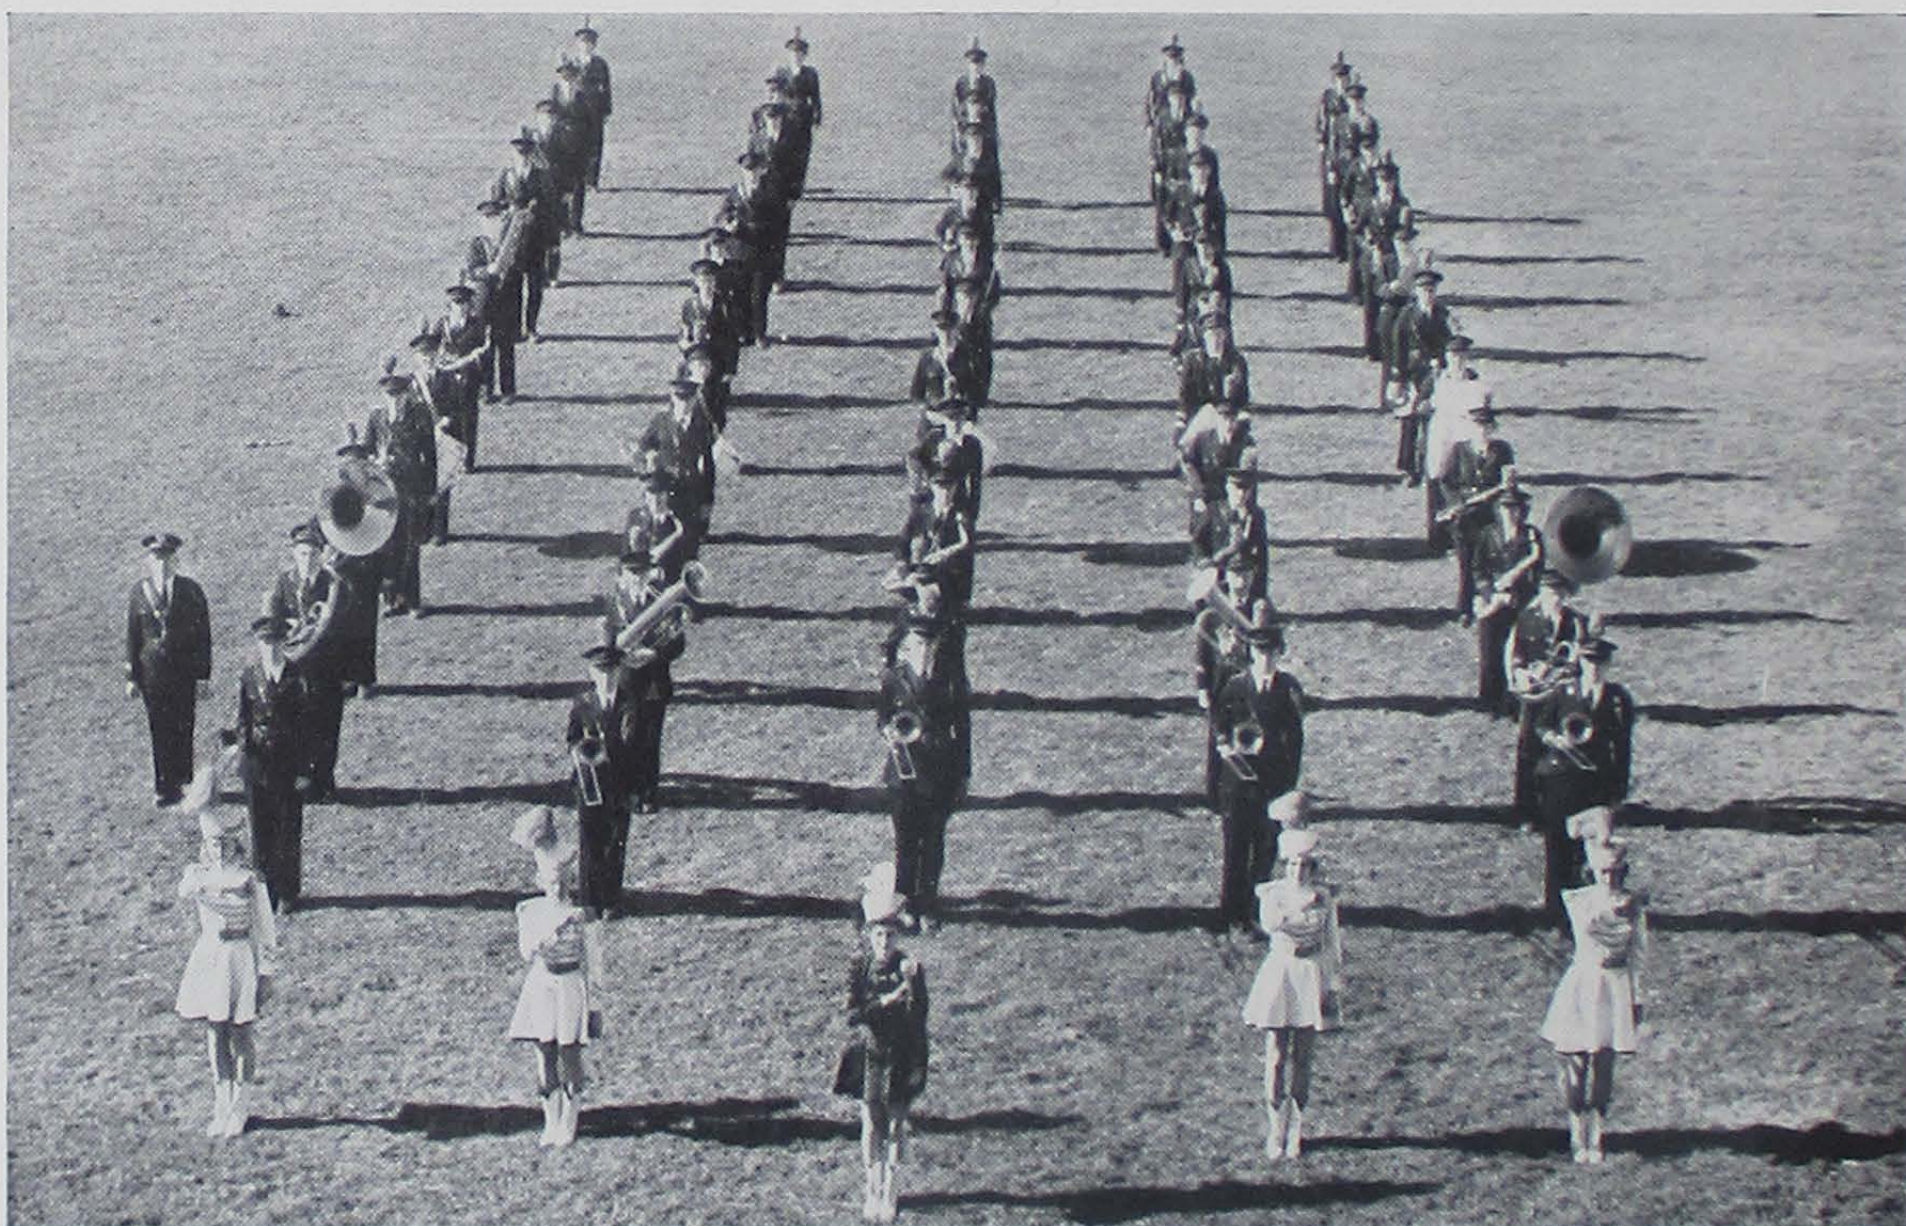

Peterson, president; Nancy Winslow, vice-president; Charles Murphy, secretary; Sue Shaefer, librarian, and Elaine Elwell and John Thielman, robekeepers. Girls' glee club officers included Catherine Grant, president; Marjorie Maakestad, vice-president; Beth Holl, secretary; Sue Fitzsimmons, librarian, and Evelyn Dilts, Barb McLaughlin and Sue Clark, robekeepers.

Palm club is an honorary organization for those students who have done outstanding work in the field of dramatics. New members are admitted to the club upon meeting certain entrance requirements. Fifty-two points must be earned by each member in the various divisions of stagecraft, acting, work on backstage crews and work as production heads.

Debate club was the answer this year for those who like to argue and want to learn to do it logically and convincingly. The purpose of the club is to prepare and present arguments on the state high school forensic league question, and to participate in debates with various schools in the state. This year the debate squad attended the Coe college tournament, the Brindly tournament at Iowa State Teachers' college, a district tourney at Cedar Rapids, state finals at Iowa City, with side trips to Eldora and Webster City. Bill Jackson won honors at Coe college and Pat

Hurlburt won favor at the Brindley tournament.

The Web, Ames High's weekly news sheet, is written and edited by the journalism class. Each semester a new group of students learn the techniques of journalistic writing from Miss Charlotte Nelson, faculty advisor, and practice their newly acquired skill by editing the Web. The newsmen track down their assigned stories during the week, writing them on Fridays and Mondays; Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays are devoted to class work.

The first semester staff included: Don Webber and Jerry Kurtz, editors; Sue Fitzsimmons and Dick Hove, assignment editors; Janet McCoy and Millie Willett, copy; Barb Egemo and Alyce Disbrowe, makeup; Craig Walker, feature editor; Fred Allen, photo editor. The second semester staff was led by editors Aldor Peterson and Pat Hurlburt. Jack Kruger and Pat McGuire, assignment editors; Nancy Stahlman and Dave Walkup, makeup; Eloise Hansen and Jeanne Bannister, copy; Jim Mullica, feature editor; exchange editor, Anne Town; photo editor, Bob Lee.

Learning the techniques of newspaper writing was the goal of Cubs' club, an organization for those people interested in journalism but not enrolled in the regular journalism class. Under the supervision of Miss Charlotte Nelson, the club learned the basic aspects of journalism and put their knowledge to work by writing and editing the first Web of the second semester.

Library club spent a busy year rearranging and enlarging file catalogues, binding books and decorating the hall display case. Led by Mrs. Elizabeth Dickinson, sponsor, and Mary Jean Stoddard and Millie Willett, presidents, the club did their best to keep the library functioning smoothly.

Monitoring and living up to the club motto, "Justice through warnings," was the major activity of Firesquad this year. Led by Don

Johnson and Keith Paulson, firechiefs, the 39 members maintained order in the halls and during fire drills by issuing the familiar red warning slips. Highlighting the year's activities was the annual spring picnic held at Brookside Park.

Ames High's electricians, the members of Radio club, were busy this year repairing old radios donated by Ames residents to be sent to the local hospital. The club learned how to construct an aerial and understand the principal of its efficiency, radio soldering, and mastered the operation of all test equipment. Radio club has its own short wave station, WOTRI, and a member of the organization, Paul Bundy, has a general license and call letters of his own private station. Hal Harris and Jack Anderson were this year's presidents.

The "movie bugs," under the supervision of Kenneth Page, spent the year operating the audio-visual aid equipment. The club provides an opportunity to learn about movie and sound equipment while doing a service for the school. Although this method of learning is more expensive, the educational value overbalances the fact. Officers of the service club are Tom Peterson, president; Larry Honsinger, vice president; Mary Halden, secretary.

An enrollment drive in the fall launched the activities of the Ames High Junior Red Cross council for 1951-52. Supported by the student body, the council maintained the 100 per cent enrollment of the high school in the American Junior Red Cross. Other activities of the group included repacking all Christmas boxes prepared by grade school children for needy children in foreign countries, and the making of stocking dolls to be sent to unfortunate children for Christmas. The council also participated in the National Red Cross Drive for funds. The organization will send two students to a Red Cross work camp in Wisconsin this summer.

The council is composed of representatives from homerooms, and any additional students who wish to belong. First semester officers were Marcia McGuire, president and Clarice Bengtson, vice-president. Second semester leaders were Sue Fitzsimmons and Shirley Schafroth. Mrs. Elizabeth Dickinson is the sponsor.

With its system of double checks, Ames High has one of the best methods of accounting for the money involved in extra-curricular activities.

The student treasurers are organized to keep the financial records of the activities, to be responsible to the general treasurer, and to develop business-like characteristics.

This year's monetary system was capably handled by Mary McNally, general treasurer, Donald Hartt, athletic treasurer, their assistants, Shirley Baker and Jon Roberson, and the staff of activity treasurers.

This group handles over $50,000 a year. Responsible for all financial reports, each treasurer makes an annual report which is checked by the head treasurers, Mr. Adams and finally the School Board. The money handlers report the financial gains and losses of an event, budget the finance, and file invoices.

Students are selected for this responsibility on the basis of interest in the subject and available working time.

The Little Cyclones battled their way through a tough eight game schedule to arrive at the top of the Central Iowa Conference standings.

Fifty-eight

Although they were tied with Newton for the championship with a six wins, one loss, and one tie record, the team added a chapter to Ames High's gridiron history by being the only team to have captured the title four consecutive years.

Every member of the squad saw action during the season, and 28 letters were awarded at the close of the season. The senior letter winners were: Merle Hansen, John Clark, Jim Hicks, Jack Kruger, Ben Barnard, John Ahart, Dick Harris, Nick Piper, Dave Varland, Jim Allen, Dick Stuber, Jim Penquite, Ron Begg, Chuck Holmes, Ralph Emerson, Dave Walkup, Lyell Henry, Dick Culbertson, Guy Fox and Don Johnson.

Jim Holdredge. This year's football manager was Jim Triplett. Trainers were Dave Taft, Bob Stacy and Don Harris.

Highlighting the 1951 football season was the selection of Merle Hansen as captain of the team at the annual football fireside and the choice of several players on the Central Iowa Conference and all-state teams.

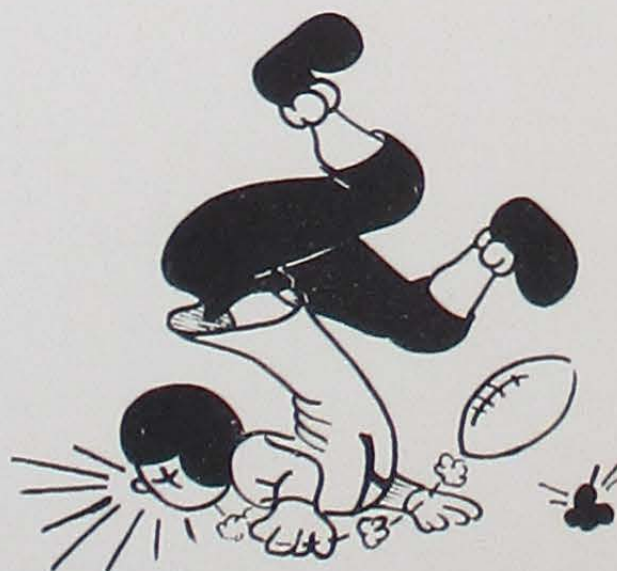

Ames 33—Mason City 14
 Ames 0—Newton 0
 Ames 42—Marshalltown 21
 Ames 20—Oskaloosa 7
 Ames 41—West Waterloo 26
 Ames 47—Grinnell 13
 Ames 14—Fort Dodge 20
 Ames 19—Boone 7

Tom Cooper and Jerry Hedrick were outstanding backfield performers; Gallagher and Fox looked good at half back. End Bill Jones was the best pass receiver, and Tom Howe, Ron Sills, Denny Rust and Dan Arrasmith ably filled the end and tackle slots. The whole team displayed a fine brand of ball worth watching in the years to come.

The sophomore season scores were:

Ames 31—Marshalltown 20
 Ames 27—Webster City 0
 Ames 12—East Des Moines 0
 Ames 32—Boone 20

Coach Ron Norman's crew of sophomores finished the season undefeated and with a promise of some good material for next year's varsity squad. Armed with a rugged line, the team packed plenty of power, playing some terrific defensive ball and lacking little in the touchdown department.

The Season's Record

The Ames High Little Cyclones emerged from their eight game schedule with a record of six wins, one defeat and one tie. Mason City, Marshalltown, Oskaloosa, West Waterloo, Grinnell and Boone provided the wins, while the sole defeat came at the hands of a mighty Fort Dodge team. The Homecoming game with Newton saw the two teams fighting through a driving rain, in which neither team scored.

AMES 33—MASON CITY 14

The Little Cyclones launched the season with an overwhelming victory over the Mason City Mohawks. The underestimated Ames team overpowered the Mohawk eleven for the sixth straight time. Big ground gains were made with Allen breaking away for some long runs.

AMES 0—NEWTON 0

Ames High suffered some costly fumbles as the team fought to a scoreless tie on a rain-soaked field. Both teams advanced slowly during the season's homecoming game. As the final gun sounded, the Cyclones had finally succeeded in battling to the Newton 20-yard line.

AMES 42—MARSHALLTOWN 21

The Ames team played some of their best ball all season as they scored a decisive 42-21 triumph over the Bobcats of Marshalltown. Highlights of the game were three long touchdown passes, Stuber to Harris, Varland and Allen. Jim Allen kicked six out of six extra point tries.

AMES 20—OSKALOOSA 7

The fired-up Cyclones romped to a 20-7 victory, coming from behind in the second half to score two touchdowns.

AMES 41—WEST WATERLOO 26

The Ames team stormed back to erase a 26-20 half-time deficit. The team was at the season's peak, playing fine ball. Allen scored three touchdowns and Stuber did some brilliant passing.

AMES 47—GRINNELL 13

The first team ran the score to 27-0 before the end of the first quarter with Piper and Varland each scoring twice. Ben Buck, Bill Houk and John Nervig each scored once as the reserves continued to romp through the last three quarters.

AMES 14—FORT DODGE 20

Early mistakes and costly fumbles proved fatal to Ames, although the team played a fine game. Ames did some excellent passing. It was the team's first loss in 19 games, and the Dodger's first victory over the Little Cyclones in five years.

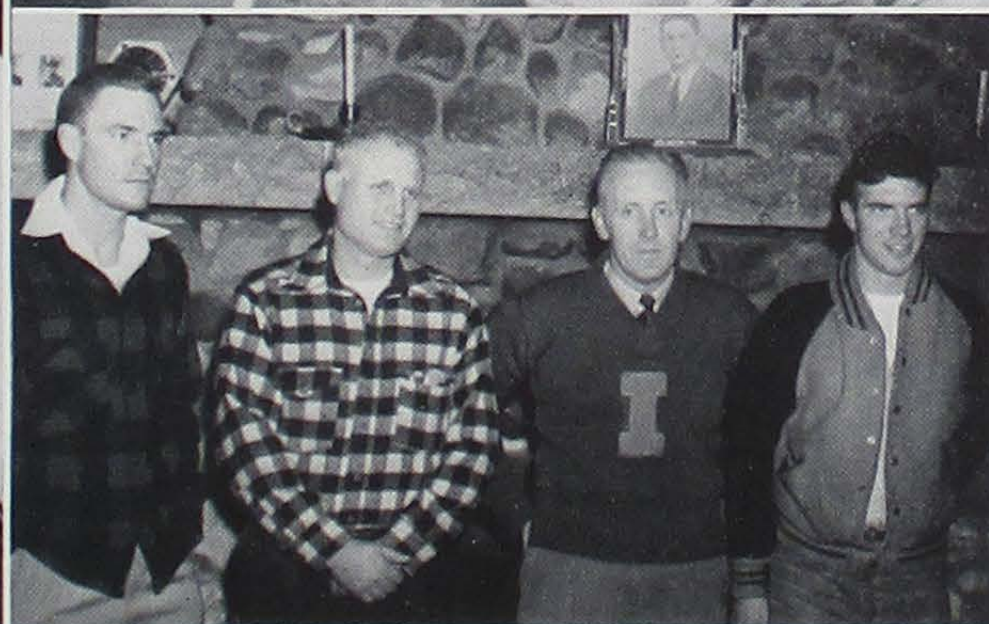

AMES 19—BOONE 7

This Boone-Ames tilt was a typical game between the rivals. Coach Ken Wells and captain Merle Hansen steered the Cyclones to win their nineteenth Boone game. The Ames eleven took advantage of the opposition's fumbles and scored early in the game. The Well's team, braving the cold 18 degrees above zero weather, climaxed the season with a win and the satisfaction of winning the Boone-Ames traveling trophy for another year.

The season's starting lineup saw Dick Stuber handling the quarterbacking, and Jim Allen playing fullback, with Dave Varland and Nick Piper filling in at right and left halfback. In the line, Merle Hansen filled the center slot; Jim Hicks and Ben Barnard played guard. Manning the tackle positions were Jack Kruger and John Clark. Dick Harris and John Ahart started at end.

Tough luck followed Don Webber again this season. Don broke his right collarbone last year a week before the season opener. This year he snapped his left collarbone at nearly the same time of the season. The team had been depending on the passing and quarterbacking of the senior ace, but with the ill luck, Dick Stuber ably took over the position.

A berth on the state tournament locomotive climaxed the season for the Little Cyclones, who had a record this year of 15 and 6.

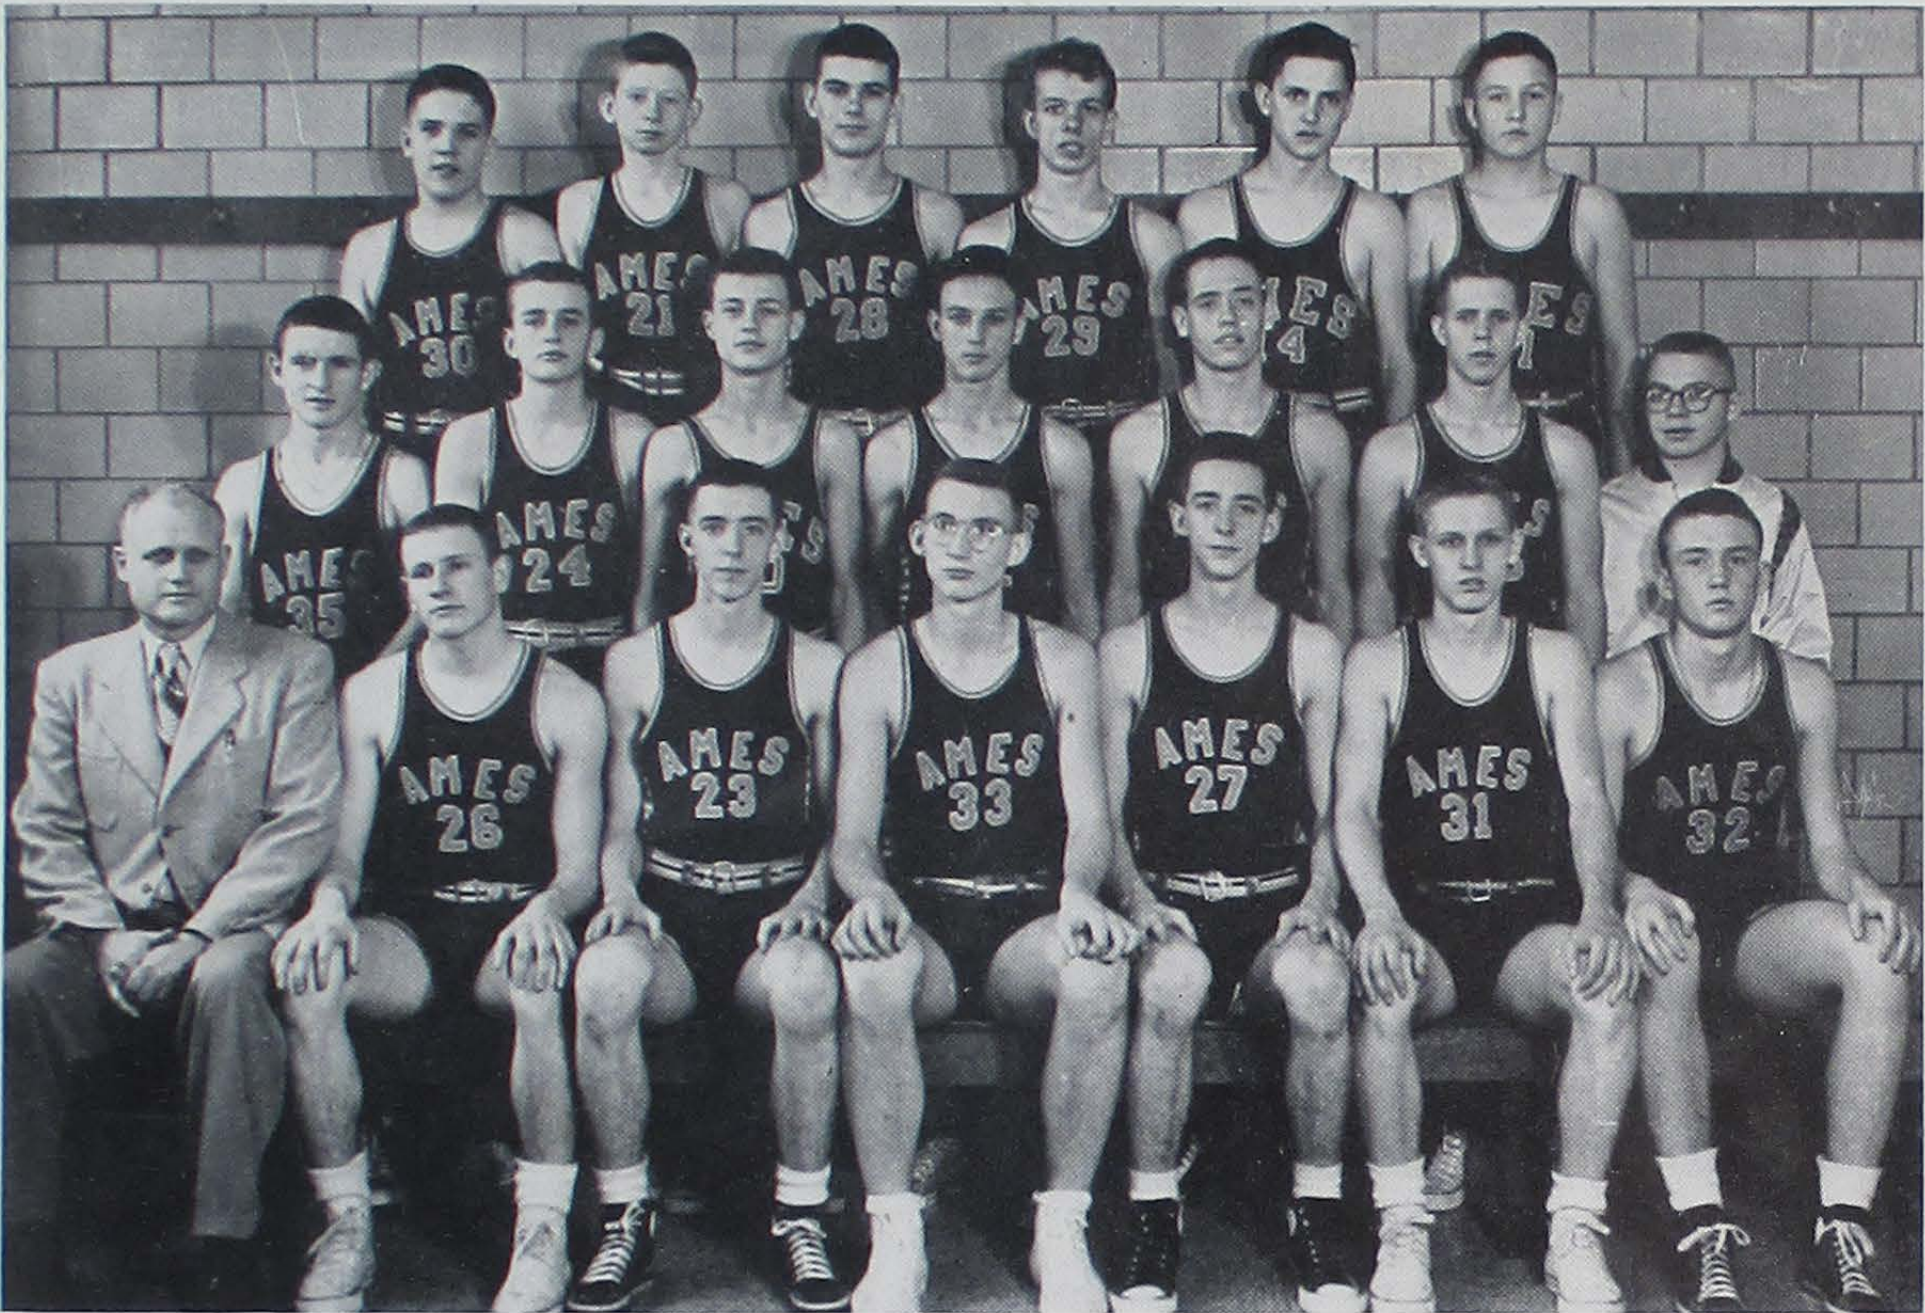

Sixty-four

In the CIC race, Ames tied with 3 other schools for second place, with a conference record of five and five, losses coming at the hands of Marshalltown, Grinnell, Oskaloosa and Boone. The ball team was undefeated in regular play.

The Cyclones advanced to the sub-state by topping Dowling of Des Moines 52-35 in district play. The fired-up team whipped East Des Moines 57-52, and played inspired ball to take Newton by storm 69-41. State tournament pairings found Ames facing Cherokee in a first round battle, Ames winning 47-45. In their second game the Cyclones were unable to match the supreme strength of defending champ, Davenport, and bowed, in a hard-fought game, 64-47; Davenport going on to win the tourney.

Don Webber led the scoring race with 210 points, Jim Allen tucked 177 through the net, Eight letters were awarded at the close of the season. Letter winners were: Don Webber, Dick Stuber, Jim Allen, Dave Varland, Bill Houk, Dick Harris, Nick Piper and Dick Green.

The squad elected Dick Stuber as team captain for the year. Dick's ball handling ability, spirit and aggressiveness won him the award.

The sophomore basketball team played some fine ball this season to emerge with a 14 wins one lost record, their loss coming at the close of the season after the first five soph players were shifted to the varsity squad.

In conference play the sophs were undefeated; in non-conference play they bowed only to Cedar Rapids with a close 42 to 40 score.

Denny Rust, sophomore center, broke all local soph scoring records and sophomore conference records as he shoved 231 points through the net, George and Bob McJimsey also led Ames in the scoring honors, the three boys from Ames being in the top 10 in the CIC scoring. The soph ball-players were well above average in ability this year and will provide some fine material for next year's squad.

B squad was composed of sophomore and junior boys who were not skilled enough to make varsity teams, but were organized to give them playing experience for next year. The squad practiced regularly, but played only two regular games. The squad played in the county tournament, losing to Shipley. Their final game was with Boone.

Varsity Track

With the close of the basketball season, attention was again focused on the Little Cyclone thinclads. Around 90 boys turned out for track this year, and a record number of sophomores made the varsity squad.

The team met a tough schedule as they faced the state AAU indoor meet, the state high school indoor meet, the Valley Relays, State Teachers Relays, the Drake Relays; they were hosts to the Little Cyclone Invitational, followed by the district track and field meet, the CIC track and field meet, and finally the state outdoor.

A highlight of the season was the performance of senior Nick Piper as he became the tenth pole-vaulter ever to clear the 12-foot mark in state indoor competition. His record of 12 feet six inches at the state AAU indoor at Iowa City shattered the standing record and aided the Cyclones in placing at the meet. Other outstanding performers were Jim Allen, Jim Holdredge, Dick Stuber, Jack Kruger and a score of others. Nick Piper, Dick Peterson, Jim Allen were elected co-captains in track.

Coach Hi Covey's reserve squad fared equally well on the cinder track. An extensive program was carried out for the reserves. Dual meets with Boone and Newton reserves, and a dual meet with the Des Moines schools completed the competition for the boys who did not see action with the varsity.

Without the able coaching of Hi Covey and his assistant, Ken Wells, the team could not have maintained their rating as one of the top track teams. Hats off to the fine job they have done and will continue to do.

The Ames High school intramural program is one of the most extensive in the state. Co-ordinated closely with the program at Iowa State college, the organization provides boys who are not on regular varsity teams to participate in athletics on a full scale. The after school intramural program consists of touch football, basketball, table tennis, bowling, wrestling, badminton and other sports. Tournaments are held in these sports with the boys competing as homerooms. The homeroom totaling the most points awarded for winning different tourneys, is awarded a trophy at the end of the year.

Basketball is the most popular sport. It was climaxed by the selection of the sophomore, junior and senior all-stars, outstanding players during the season. The all-stars annually play a group of faculty teachers in a rough and tumble basketball tilt.

The extensive program for boys is outlined throughout the year by Ray Smalling, who is ably assisted by the intramural managers and the intramural council.

Girls' Athletic Association spent a busy year partaking in numerous sports. Baseball, volleyball, basketball, badminton, ping pong, tennis, golf and many other sports claimed outstanding GAA performers.

Led by the cabinet consisting of Beth Holl, president; Catherine Grant, vice-president; Sue LaGrange, social chairman; Ann Maywald, secretary-treasurer; Diana Alcock, intramural chairman, and Clarice Bengtson, point recorder, the group planned tournaments in various sports.

Homeroom 109 won the A league basketball title; 113 took the B league prize. Mary Jean Stoddard took honors in the ping pong singles tourney. The badminton doubles championship was won by Diana Alcock and Nancy Stahlman.

Girls who had earned 100 or more points were brought into the club at a formal initiation held in January. Afterwards there was an informal initiation in the cafeteria where the girls participated in relay games. A potluck supper followed the initiations.

At the spring awards assembly, those girls earning 500 points were presented with small letter A's. Those with 1500 points were awarded large numerals, and several girls with high GAA records who had earned 2,000 points were awarded black and orange stuffed animals. Ribbons were awarded the winners of the tournaments during the year.

The organization was under the sponsorship of Mrs. Jean Eschner.

The fall production of the Drama club was a light comedy, The Divine Flora. The play took place in the Pryor family's summer home, and involved a very drab looking girl, who with the courageous efforts of two boys, was transformed into a "femme fatale."

Playing the title role, Flora, was Nancy Winslow. Jerry Johnson and Francis Judge acted the roles of the boys who changed the drab girl into a "knockout."

The cast for the play included:

Hal	BOB MCCARDIE
Winnie	DONNA SCLAROW
Boops	SARAH HALL
Stu Morgan	LARRY KNUDSON
Kit Olmstead	NANCY STAHLMAN
Etta Dean	NANCY WINSLOW
Randy Pryor	BUD JUDGE
Mrs. Pryor	JEAN MURRAY
Mr. Pryor	BOB BENTLEY
Buzz Rafferty	JERRY JOHNSON
Mr. Dean	KEITH HYENGA
Sharon Pryor	SHIRLEY SMALL
Bob	DON BRADLEY
Wayne	ROGER SINGER
Tex Arlen	GARY MALLO
Daphne Gilford	ELOISE HANSEN
Mr. Dugan	GEORGE ALLAN
Girls	MARGE BORMUTH, NANCY FOX PAT SMITH, LIZ TORESDAHL, DEE WATTONVILLE ANN STACY, NANCY MERCHANT, JACKIE CON- OVER, JOAN BURGESS, BARB SUMBERG, ANN LEE

The play was directed by Al Paul, drama coach.

Hi Carol!!!

Don't know how to spell your name, it just I think you would make a sweet little girl. Remember go to grade program. Good luck (Crittler) the flying monkey.

Dear Rad,

I don't know where you get all this about girls home ec. and P.E.!! But it's the truth it's all right with me (I guess maybe). Anyhow, you're a swell kid and I'm glad I met you.
Don't let anyone give you a dirty deal or pick on you. Good luck and all that stuff.

Michelle

Carroll,

I feel honored to write in here but I don't know what to write. It's been fun being in what classes we were together with your funny sense of humor. Good luck your next two years (You'll need it)! Carol

Hi Red,

How are you doing these days? I guess bio. and geom.
were your favorite classes because I was in them. (Ha, Ha) I don't know what we would have done in either of those classes without having you to lighten them up. Good luck in the next two years.

Linda

Hi Red,

I'll always appreciate the rides in your car even if I was committed to an insane asylum after each one. Be a good boy and good luck always.
Kathy

Hi Carol,
It has been fun knowing you for 2 years and I hope I will see you for 2 more years
Vera K.
(Cage)

Carroll,
Of all the fast rides I've had I'll never forget that one during Biology class when we lost Jack & C. car but these are the gay days. Have fun this summer but don't run at anybody!
Liz

Dear Red,

Luck to a boy who seems like a brother to me.
You're so helpless at times. (I go.... know) See you at Sunday School
next year in O.E.?
